

The M.A. in Hispanic Studies is an interdisciplinary program that offers three different concentration areas of study in Hispanic linguistics, Hispanic literature, and Hispanic culture. The program is supported by a faculty unit that is strong in interdisciplinary approaches to the study of language, literature, and culture.

EACH CONCENTRATION AREA IS OFFERED WITH BOTH THE THESIS AND NON-THESIS OPTIONS FOR CUSTOMIZATION

AFFILIATED FACULTY FROM OTHER AREAS COMPLEMENT THE PROGRAM WITH EXPERTISE FROM OTHER DISCIPLINES

LINGUISTICS

LITERATURE

CULTURE

LEARN SO MUCH MORE LSU.EDU/FORLANG/HISPANIC-STUDIES

DEPARTMENT OF FOREIGN LANGUAGES & LITERATURES

M.A. IN HISPANIC STUDIES

COLLEGE OF HUMANITIES & SOCIAL SCIENCES

ABOUT THE PROGRAM

Graduate Assistantships

Graduate assistantships are offered to qualified full-time graduate students for a maximum of two years and include a tuition waiver and stipend.

Graduate Minor

Students can enhance their Graduate School experience at LSU by completing a graduate minor in one of the following areas: art history, English, French, geography and anthropology, history, linguistics, women's studies, and more.

Application Process

Prospective students must complete an online application with the LSU Graduate School. The first step is to create an account. Applicants must submit the following information to the Graduate School:

- Complete application form
- Application fee
- Official transcripts from all universities attended (in English)
- GRE scores (sent by testing service)
- CV (in English or Spanish)
- 3 letters of recommendation (in English or Spanish, uploaded by references)
- Statement of purpose (in English or Spanish)
- Writing sample in Spanish (university-level essay)
- International applicants must also submit a TOEFL score or equivalent (sent by testing service)

Additional Information

For additional information, contact:
 Professor Carmela Mattza, PhD - Graduate Advisor
 Department of Foreign Languages & Literatures
 Louisiana State University
 Baton Rouge, LA 70803
 Telephone: 225-578-6638
 Email: cmattza@lsu.edu

LSU.EDU/FORLANG/HISPANIC-STUDIES